

It Looks To Me Like The Fix Is In

We don't need a criminal in the White House, but someone who stands for truth and righteousness, and works to restore the greatness of our country.