

The Grand Tactic Of Deflection

This filing of charges once again brings to the forefront the Democrats' fixation on President Trump colluding with the Russians to win the election. This is nothing more than noise.