

VIDEO: A Survival Ready Backpack from Jason Salyer

Your survival depends on your ability to prepare, and beyond all the things you do to prepare your home or your vehicle for dire situations, you can't just pray and hope that those situations catch you at your well-prepared home or with a full tank of gas, nor is it feasible to have a cumbersome EDC.

That's where a survival pack can come in to save the day and your hide. In this video, Jason shows what he keeps in his pack at any and all times to maximize his survival chances. And while you could and should add to it, there are just some things you shouldn't leave behind.

US Nuclear Target Map.
Do You Live In The Death
Zone?

Watch Video>>