

Pocket Survival Kit (PSK) – Security Options

Security is at the top of the list of needs in a SHTF situation and while your first thought is gun as it is ours, there's more to pack in a PSK. But if you're going to ever fall asleep, what use is the firearm if you're going to get caught while snoozing?

You could've been sleeping indoors if you packed what Cache Valley Prepper is presenting here or you could've at least set up some snag lines to not be completely exposed so be sure to watch the video and see what you can pack to bolster your security with just a few multi-use items.
