

[VIDEO] Pocket Survival Kit (PSK) – Fire Tools

Whether you're on a snowy mountain or in a remote desert, the ability to start a fire is paramount. From keeping you warm to cooking food to disinfecting water, there's no better thing than a roaring fire.

That's why one of the first and foremost things to have within your Pocket Survival Kit (PSK) are tools to guarantee you can always have a fire going, regardless of what life throws in the way.

Cache Valley prepper is here to show you what you should pack to make sure you can always have that comfort and warmth on hand, even if the only thing you have helping is the sun.
